Being an Effective Changemaker in Literacy Education: A Breakout Panel on the Role of Collaborating and Mentoring in a School-University Partnership

This breakout panel addresses the latest approaches to being an effective literacy changemaker in a school-university partnership through authentic collaboration and supportive mentoring. The panel will present and then lead topic-related discussions during a roundtable session. Attendees will be able to update their own practices and approaches to collaborative relationships between K-12 and university faculty. Visit www.prtesig.com for a complete description and list of presenters.

Call for Proposals opened on Monday, February 5, 2018 and closed on April 15, 2018. The proposals were reviewed by a panel of 5 educators.
